Stavery in the Territories. The normal condition of mankind freedom: and the normal state of the ter ritories is that of freedom. Human slave ry does not now exist, never did, and never will exist on any portion of the earth, except by special legislative enactment. This axiom is logically and morally true, as the converse of the first, viz. that the original state of man and of the soil, is that of freedom. Upon the force of human laws alone then, can this state of things be changed. That slavery as it exists is morally wrong, and legally right, is, abstractly considered, a moral paradox, which can be reconciled in no other way than by the assumption of that piratical doctrine, that might gives right.

Slavery nevertheless exists by legal en actment in several of these United States which authority however does not extend beyond the limits of the States where such tial Democrat of New York: enactments were passed. INDEPENDENT CANDIDATE.

To she voters of Fairfield County Ohio:

Unsolicited by friends, of my own free will and necord. I present reposit as an "independent Candidate" for the office of County Anditor this fall and in doing so, come before you as a freeman should, believing that integrity and capacity are the only perquisites necessary to one seeking the office to which aspire; and which I most earnessly solicitat your hands. I have lived amongst you for the period of thirty-four years, have never held office, nor hereitofore sought one at the hands of the people. My qualifications for the competent discharge of the responsible trust committed to the erre of an Aunitor of this county are well knewn to many of you, and I hope will be favorably cobelisired. If, by your suffrages, I should be called upon to manage the affairs of said office, I fatter myself you will not be disappointed in the confidence bestowed.

Asit regards canvassing the county to solicit votes thave neither time nor money to engage in it, requiring as it does every hour not devoled to necessary rest, to earth a living for a family dependent upon the result of my lab res, and above self I have a natural repugnance to boring the people and wasting their time. and Blood Purifier. and Blood Partitier.

"The blood is the life," says Scripture; so says Science also. Expel corruption from the blood and no disease can exist in the system. My Blood Pills and Partitor perform their task effectually. They are powerful vegetahic detergents, and cure all forms of disease, which rise from impure blood, simply because they remove the common causes of disease from the life-enstating fluid. Hence their apparently miraculous cures of acrofula, cruptions, tumbors, dyspepsia, liver complaints, theumatism, swelling of the joints, and all affections of the internal organs, which do not proceed from uniformation.
